Customer comments

First Ireland have been using The Email Laundry since they first started. Back then 75% of our e-mail traffic was spam however this dropped to almost nothing when we started using the service. The thing I like about the service is there really is no administration. The service has always run flawlessly and has made our own system more resilient.

As a recruitment consultancy, our business depends on fast and efficient communication with both our clients and candidates. The Email Laundry provided us with a simple and cost effective solution to filter our mail ensuring that critical communications could be identified and responded to more easily as well as freeing up resources previously spent on spam management. We have no hesitation in recommending The Email Laundry to any business suffering from significant spam levels.

Testimonials

ADM Londis plc operates a Franchise of over 370 stores Nationwide, we need to communicate often and quickly with our retail partners. Email represents the fastest and most efficient method of achieving this aim, however we struggled for many years to gain retailer acceptance due to the high level of SPAM being received by our customers.

The Email Laundry has solved this problem for us in a professional and cost effective manner. The solution was implemented on one month, no obligation trial (always the sign of a winning product), the technical support, although needed very infrequently has been incredibly responsive.

I would have no hesitation in recommending the company, the people and the solution to any customers who wish to drive their business, either B to B or B to C.

Anti Spam Service

Just clean email at an affordable price

The Email Laundry is a highly effective, unique, low cost service to eliminate all email borne threats including spam, viruses and phishing emails.

Our approach to email protection encompasses multi-layered protection against all hazardous content sent over email. Our unique Advanced Connection Filtering technology ensures that spam is stopped as it attempts to connect from its source. Multiple anti-virus engines, updated every 15 minutes, enable us to prevent the latest virus outbreaks from reaching your network.

Dealing with these threats outside of your network provides many benefits. Your overall network security is greatly enhanced giving you significant peace of mind. Employee productivity will be improved due to the prevention of spam from reaching their inboxes.

We operate from data centres across Europe ensuring full redundancy on our part. If your email server or email host goes offline we will queue your inbound email until it is back online.

Why use The Email Laundry to filter your email?

- 99.9 % of spam blocked
